

B. General (Res.) MA Abraham (Avi) Bachar,

Since 1998 – Founder & CEO -IsraTeam Ltd: The Israeli Architect of national policy for emergency, developing strategies for any threats, preparing national resilience and conducting national drills and implementation. Recognized international and Israeli authority in the field of developing operational and organizational methods, emergency incident doctrines and training programs.

2007 -2009 Chairman of the National Emergency Economy Organization, (today – National Emergency Management Agency NEMA).

A national organization to ensure the ability to provide the needs and services necessary for the population in time of War, Natural disasters, Cyber-attack and CBRNE terror events, responsible for preparing the Government offices, the Municipalities and the critical infrastructures resilience, for and during all various emergency situations, through: Guidance, coordination, instruction, drills and control.

1995 -1998 Last military position was Chief of Staff, Home Front Command (HFC), IDF. Responsible for organizing and preparing the new command for all emergencies especially for War, CBRNE terror events and earthquakes.

MA degree in communal policy and public administration from the Tel-Aviv University,